Knock Knock, Who's There?

The smanos Video Doorbell is an all-new addition to the smanos smart home security portfolio, powered by smanos's signature form and function as well as ease of use. When someone presses on the bell button or the built-in motion sensor detects movements, you and your family get an instant notification on your smartphones, enabling you to see and speak with your visitor no matter where you are in the house or in the world, anytime of the day. You can also proactively wake up the smanos doorbell on demand and see what might be happening on your porch or driveway as you wish.

Cloud-based Video Recording

When someone presses on the bell button or the built-in motion sensor detects movements, you will get an app notification and a 15-second video clip will be saved to the cloud (housed on AWS®). Every account has a 7-day free trial to store video clips of visits and motion alerts, and once activated and used, you can upgrade your plan to have a longer storage time (30 days) and cover multiple doorbells (and UFO cameras). You can also save and share video clips through your smartphone.
